Stronger team bonds and better retention

Teams grow together through shared learning and development, building connection and loyalty along the way.

“We were in a big pitch. It was going really badly. The client was challenging everything.

I started using the techniques we’d learnt. Within minutes, the client was on our side.

We won the pitch.”

People Skills as a Service[®] programme

Who should enrol on the programme?

Anyone in your business who interacts with clients - business leaders, delivery teams, account managers, sales people etc. Team members who aren't client-facing also enrol to improve their internal comms.

What are we committing to?

The programme runs for 6 months, with a time commitment of just 2–3 hours per month per person. It's fully flexible - you can swap participants or pause or leave the programme whenever needed.

How do you track programme success?

We track confidence against key learning outcomes. On average, there's a 47% skills improvement and we work with you to embed the learnings across your business for long-lasting change.

How do you keep people engaged?

We post workshop recordings & summaries, challenges and competitions in Teams & Slack. Everyone joins a working group for support and accountability - and to help catch up if a session is missed.

For businesses where everyone is always flat out. Low time commitment but high impact.

We've written the book on it

Our book Human-Powered became an Amazon bestseller within a week of being published.

85% of job success comes from how well people solve problems together, handle conflict and inspire others.

Get this right and you build high-performing teams. Get it wrong and people switch off, disconnect from each other - and leave.
